AWESOME IN EVERY WAY!

She's An Entrepreneur. She's An Enterprise!

This month we'd like to introduce to you, Lisa Jackson, school teacher and brilliant entrepreneur. Lisa knows how to maneuver her business in an effort to have streams of money constantly flowing into her business. Lisa is a Traci Lynn Jewelry consultant who enjoys working her jewelry business every chance she gets which is everyday! She utilizes all the tools available to her from Facebook posts, Facebook live and her Facebook group. Lisa is on a nonstop journey and works diligently and faithfully to ensure not only her success, but that extra income that has blessed her life richly.

Lisa's Biography

Lisa was born and raised in Philadelphia where she continues to reside with her son, Jordan. She attended the Philadelphia High School for Girls and then attended and graduated from West Chester University. Lisa is currently a teacher in the School District of Philadelphia. She has been teaching since 1989. In her spare time, when not selling Traci Lynn jewelry, Lisa likes to travel. She has visited many Caribbean islands and has been on many cruises. Traci Lynn Jewelry helps to pay for some of those trips. Lisa has been selling Traci Lynn since 2011.

WOW UNIVERSITY

INSTITUTION OF GODLY LEARNING

The fall season has ushered in bringing cooler temperatures, awe-inspiring hues of reds, yellows and browns that majestically color the leaves on the trees right before they tumble to their new home.

Breathtaking, God's wondrous work is evident everywhere you look. For many this represents doing new things in business which can mean in this amazing season that it's time to renew and rejuvenate the system you currently have in place with thoughts of creating and incorporating new and brilliant business building components to propel your business.

Think about some of the things that you can do better to consistently fuel your business. Ask yourself how you can contribute to your business; What can I do to perform better and make more sales. How can you get more doors
to open?

Find your target audience and hang out with them. Share your heart where sincerity pours out into your business to earn new and potential customers. Be relevant and tell yourself yes you can! Now when you have all systems in place.
Think and treat your business like you treat
yourself!
